PARSA Textbook Grants

Purpose: To provide financial assistance to currently enrolled postgraduate students who require support to purchase program/course related textbooks.

- Any postgraduate who is experiencing financial hardship
- Students who are parents/carers
- Higher Degree Research students

Provisions: PARSA may purchase textbooks to the value of up to $150 per semester for currently enrolled post-graduate students.

PARSA will only cover the costs of course related books available at our on campus bookshop: Harry Hartog.

Eligibility:

- Be currently enrolled as a postgraduate student at the ANU
- Be enrolled in the program/course for which the book is required
- Able to demonstrate that the cost of text books creates financial difficulty

Process: Interested applicants must submit a completed application form and provide the following documents:

1. Proof of enrolment in the course (ISIS confirmation)
2. Course outline showing the textbook is a requirement or recommendation as communicated by the course convenor
3. Confirmation of book/s pricing which includes a screenshot of items from <http://www.harryhartog.com.au/textbooks>
4. Bank statements from all your accounts showing the previous 90 days transactions

The PARSA Student Assistance Team will determine, based on the application, if a student qualifies for assistance and the amount of assistance to be granted.

Successful applicants are required to notify PARSA Student Assistance Team if the textbook is no longer required e.g. change in the requirement of the course.

Applications and inquires can be directed to parsa.assistance@anu.edu.au
