Can I apply more than one project per year?

Yes, but you need to demonstrate a higher quality of application and standard of benefit to the Community.

Can I apply for the same project two years in a row?

Yes. But you need to make sure that you have your sustainability plan in place for your event.

I have been turned down for a grant – can I apply for the same project again?

If your application is rejected, we will send you a letter outlining the issues. If you believe you have addressed these areas (issues on the benefit for wider ANU community, budget, commitment of other Departments, etc.) or you have changed some details of the project – then you can reapply a new application.

I am currently running a project and it is almost completed. But I am run out of money. Can I still apply for seef funding?

No. seef funding is not available retrospectively and students must apply before the round closing date.

What type of projects can we apply for seef funding?

We are looking to provide funding to support student-led projects that enrich the extracurricular student experience in following areas: community, culture, environment, humanitarian, indigenous, intellectual, pastoral, social, sporting, and other extracurricular activities.

It is essential that the project, event, or activity will benefit not only for you and your group, but to the wider ANU Community.

Do you have any example of projects that were approved in the past?

A couple of example of projects awarded through seef include:

- Participation in conference, competition and internship (not for credit nor contribute to course content)
- Performance (performing arts, play, revue)
- Photography Exhibition
- Dance competition
- Workshop
